CHILDREN STARE DEATH IN FACE

Florine And Byron Hinchman, Age
10 And 14, Have Remarkable Escape Returning From School.

THEIR HORSE HIT BY TRAIN

Buggy Dragged Alongside Engine and Crushed by Big Drivers, But They Are Safe.

Little Florine Hinchman, age ten years, and her older brother, Byron Hinchman, age fourteen years, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Hinchman, living about two miles and a half northeast of the city, had a most miraculous escape from death on their way home from school here yesterday evening, when they were hit by a Pennsylvania freight train, bound northeast, at what is known as the "Jake Parrish crossing," just a few rods east of the home of Mr. Parrish.

Although the horse was struck by the engine, the buggy was seraped along the side of the engine for several feet and almost demolished and the horse afterwards ran through two barbed-wire fences, the two children, who were in the buggy all the time, escaped without a scratch.

The children suffered a severe nervous shock. Their parents were notified after the accident and hurried to the place and took them home. Neither of them had eaten a morsel of food up until noon today, so great was the nervous excitement which resulted from their thrilling experience in which they faced death repeatedly.

The two children were returning home from Rushville where they attend school daily. They assert that their horse suddenly started to run as it approached the crossing where the almost fatal accident occurred. Their attempts to bring him down to a moderate gait were useless.

The two children say the horse was almost on the crossing before they saw the freight train rushing down upon them. They believe that the horse had seen the train some distance away and had frightened at it.

Realizing that the horse would run directly in the path of the freight and that they would most likely be killed, Robert attempted to check the horse, and when he found that was impossible, he tried to change the horse's course and run him into the opening into a field on the north side of the road, and just west of the railroad crossing, which leads to a gravel pit.

The horse lunged, with its head across the track, just as the engine of the freight reached the crossing. The engine struck the horse in the head. It was only a glancing blow and veered the animal to one side, but not knocking it over.

This started the horse up the track beside the engine because the animal's speed could not be checked. It dragged the buggy behind it. The buggy was thrown over against the powerful drivewheels of the engine and the children were expecting to be hurled under the wheels and crushed to death any instant.

The grinding of the drivewheels against the buggy tore the two buggy-wheels off and scraped and tore the top and bed, but the frightened little occupants held tight. The horse turned down the embankment to the left and ran through a barbed-wire fence, dragging the damaged buggy and the two children behind.

One barbed-wire fence was not enough to stop the frightened animal. It ran on to another barbed-wire fence and became so entangled that it could not run farther. The two children stayed with the buggy until the end.

WEIGHT LIMIT ELEVEN POUNDS

Nothing Heavier Than That Will be Carried by Parcels Post. Effective January 1.

PARCELS CARRIED BEFORE

But Limit Was Four Pounds With Flat Rate of Sixteen Cents.
a Pound.

The weight limit for the parcels post is eleven pounds. That is what makes it a parcels post. The government in its regular postal service has carried parcels right along. It, however limited them to four pounds, with the flat rate of 16 cents a pound. On the other hand an eleven-pound limitation stops the system a great deal short of a government freight handling system.

There are also measurements and other limitations working to the same end. The law reads: "Hereafter fourth-class mail matter shall embrace all other matter, including farm and factory products, not now embraced by law in either the first, second or third class, not exceeding eleven pounds in weight, nor greater in size than seventy-two inches in length and girth combined, nor in form of any kind likely to injure the person of any postal employee or damage the mail equipment or other mail matter, and not of a character perishable within a period reasonably required for transportation and delivery."

An interpretation of the measurement limitations is thus given in a letter from G. C. Thompson, chief clerk of the parcels post organization force at Washington:

"As an example, a parcel not more than 3 feet 6 inches in length, may measure as much as 2 feet 6 inches in girth, or around its thickest part. A shorter parcel may be thicker; thus, if it measures no more than 3 feet in length, it may measure 3 feet in girth, or around its thickest part. Measurements will be made by means of an official six-foot tape line, furnished by the department to postmasters. So much of the tape as is not used in measuring the length, is the measure of the maximum girth permissible."

In his statement, Thompson also says that parcels must carry the return card of the sender; and that they "may be mailable only at post-office, branch postoffices, lettered and local named stations, and such numbered stations as may be designated by the postmaster, or they may be presented to a rural or other carrier authorized to receive such matter."

Just what is "perishable," and otherwise unmailable, is yet to be stated in specific rulings—and these will come fast after January 1, when some one, for example, on a rural mail route tries to send a properly crated, well watered and fed rooster, on down that rural route a few miles, notwithstanding the orders from Washington which seems to put a ban on all live stock.

The rulings already made include as "mailable," eggs, dressed poultry, meats and butter.

A HOTBED OF POLITICS.

The dozen or more Democratic politicians who went to Indianapolis today for a conference, walked into a hotbed of politics. The meeting was called originally for members of the next house of representatives to confer on coming legislation. The State Democratic chairman issued a call recently inviting senators-elect to join in the conference and some representatives took offense at the interference.

MERCURY TO BE AS LOW FRIDAY

No Let-up in Cold Wave Which Came Last Night is Promised by Weather Man.

LOWEST TEMPERATURE YET

Coldest Weather in December Last Year Several Degrees Warmer Than Today is.

A few shivering people ventured out on the streets last night while the blustering northwest wind was ushering in the coldest weather of the winter. Temperatures as low as four degrees above zero were recorded here this morning.

The mercury rose a few degrees when the warm sun came up but it was not expected the weather would be more than ten degrees warmer all day. Section Weather Director Church says it will be as cold tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock as it was this morning at the same hour.

Even though the sun shone brightly, people suffered from the cold. For the first time this winter thick coats of ice were on window panes and frozen pipes were common. Earmuffs, "arties" and other winter wearing apparel were pressed into service.

While Rushville was cold, there were other colder points in the state. At Ft. Wayne the temperature registered 4 degrees, with a cold wind. Terre Haute registered 10, Evansville 14, Indianapolis 9, and French Lick 8 degrees.

The cold wave is breaking up in the northwest, which means that the weather will moderate within the next forty-eight hours. The high pressure yesterday was in the Rocky mountain states and today it shifted to the states in the central valley. The coldest point in the United States is Duluth, where a temperature of 10 degrees below was registered, but the wave extends to all the eastern states, and zero weather is registered in some of them.

A year ago today the temperature registered 36 degrees above and the coldest weather in December did not come until the 28th, when the registration was only 11 degrees, 2 degrees warmer than it was at 7 o'clock today. November of last year was much colder than November of this year.

GOVERNOR GRANTS BIGAMIST PARDON

George Isaacs Will Take Steps to Marry First Wife of William Lingenfelder of Rushville.

DIVORCED BY THE LATTER

Claude Rochford, attorney for George Isaacs, has obtained a pardon for his client from Governor Marshall, and Isaacs, who got into trouble because he had two wives, will not complete a 180 day term in the county workhouse, says the Indianapolis News.

Isaacs left his first wife about eleven years ago and had been living with Myrtle Lingenfelder. Isaacs had four children by the first union. He was arrested for bigamy. Mrs. Lingenfelder's husband obtained a divorce after Isaacs was arrested, and Isaacs will bring suit for divorce from his first wife, and then get a marriage license to wed Mrs. Lingenfelder.

The Daily Republican Santa Claus fund leaped forward by almost twenty dollars today.

Santa Claus was just plum tickled to death. He has begun buying toys, candy, fruit, nuts and other suitable gifts for the unfortunate little ones of Rushville, and to have such encouragement as he received today means a whole lot to him.

He was especially delighted to see the way the little folks came forward with their aid. They helped out lots today and Santa appreciates it immensely. He hopes other little folks who are contemplating a happy Christmas will emulate those who have already donated and add their sum to the fund that is going to make many happy hearts Christmas eve.

The fund will have to make almost incredible gains in the next ten days in order to equal that of last year. Santa Claus is naturally very optimistic today after the fine showing, and he feels that last year's total will be equalled if not excelled this year.

He is still hopeful that some kind people will come forward and offer the use of their vehicles for delivering the gifts the afternoon of the day before Christmas.

SCANLON HOUSE IS AGAIN ROBBED

This Time Thief Entered Dining Room and Took $2.50 Off of Mantle.

IS A REGULAR OCCURANCE

The Scanlon House, which is owned by Chief of police McAllister, seems to be a favorite place for robbers. A thief gained entrance to the dining room last night through a window and got away with $2.50 in money, which had been left on the mantle. Last night was the third time the hotel has been robbed within two months. The first time a robber entered the kitchen but was frightened away before anything of value was taken. Then Simon Hitts, employed as clerk, took "dutch leave" of the place and touched "Mac" for eleven bones.

It is believed that the robber of last night was acquainted with the place. Some change is always left in the dining room for the breakfast trade and the thief evidently knew this. The robber was heard to enter the room but he worked too quick and made his "get away."

INSANE MAN WAS GEORGE ELLIS

Connersville Captive Proved to Be Stranger Held Here Pending
Word from Spokane.

KNOWN THERE AS ED. BAKER

Passed Through Here this Morning Enroute to Madison—Recognized by Sheriff.

Sheriff Miller of Connersville passed through here this morning with an insane prisoner enroute to Madison. The prisoner was George Ellis who served eleven days in jail here for public intoxication. He was known to the Connersville officials as Ed. Baker and was arrested near Lyons Station a few days ago when he suddenly became insane and threatened the lives of several people.

Ellis will be remembered here as the man held pending "word from Spokane, Wash., as to whether or not he was wanted there for murder. Local authorities read the dispatches from Connersville telling of the arrest of an insane man giving the name of Baker but had no idea that it was the man they knew as Ellis. This morning Sheriff Bebout went to the traction station to assist the Fayette county sheriff in getting the prisoner to the Pennsylvania station and recognized the man as his one time prisoner.

Sheriff Bebout spoke to the man but Ellis' mind was a total blank. Ellis or Baker was so violent that it was necessary to strap him to a cot and in this manner he was taken to the Madison asylum. Ellis was arrested here about three weeks ago. He was found along the C. H. & D. tracks east of this city in an intoxicated condition and was arrested on the complaint of people living near, who feared he would be hit by a train.

Chief McAllister in looking over some circulars found that a man answering Ellis' description was wanted in Spokane, Wash., for murder and instead of following the usual course of letting hoboos go free, he was held until word could be received from Spokane. The clue failed and Ellis was fined one dollar and costs by Mayor Black. He was unable to pay and went to jail for eleven days. In police court Ellis stated he was born in Chicago and was of German descent. He had been on the road for years and came here from Columbus walking most of the distance. On the way from Homer he met a fellow knight of the road, who had a lot of whiskey and Ellis got a little too much.

Ellis was of powerful build and seemed fairly intelligent using very good English. His actions and appearance here were far from that of an insane man. When released from jail he started east and got as far as Lyons Station when he became insane. According to his story, told here, he was going to Dayton where he hoped to secure employment. Ellis created a great amount of excitement in the Connersville jail by his constant ravings. One dispatch from Connersville stated that he tried to hang himself with his suspenders and when they broke he tried to strangle himself with the longest end.

IT'S UP TO THE TWO SENATORS

Kern and Shively May Hold up Taft's Appointments of Indiana Postmasters.

TENTATIVE AGREEMENT MADE

Applies to Local Situation Since President Has Announced he Will Fill All Vacancies.

Intelligences from Washington, D. C., in dispatches last night were that Republican and Democratic leaders in the United States senate yesterday reached tentative agreement with respect to the disposition of appointments made by President Taft, who will go out of office March fourth.

This agreement has some bearing on the local postoffice situation since Postmaster Charles Frazee's time will expire before President Taft retires and Woodrow Wilson is inaugurated. According to the tentative agreement, all appointees by Taft will be at the mercy of B. F. Shively and John W. Kern, the two Democratic senators from Indiana.

As the matter has now shaped itself, no Republican federal appointee will be confirmed by the senate if he is to hold office in a state represented by a Democratic senator, and if that senator finds the appointment objectionable. It will not be necessary for the senator in question to produce witnesses or evidence to disqualify the appointee. All he will have to do is to say he does not want the man and that will end it.

Appointments that may be made in those states now represented by Republican senators may be confirmed if no question is raised by Democratic congress men who may be directly interested. Nomination may even be confirmed in spite of such congressmen, but that point is to be settled in each individual case.

This means that the Democratic senators have it in their power to hold up the confirmation of any or all the appointments made affecting their states. If they make no objection to this or that man, then the appointee may have his job. If objection is raised, the appointment is to be stowed away in the files and forgotten.

Such an understanding as this puts the confirmation of Postmaster Frazee's successor here up to Senator Kern and Shively. They can by one word prevent Frazee's successor from taking the office and serving during the whole of Wilson's administration, excepting about a month.

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that President Taft will name a successor to Postmaster Frazee, since he has announced that he will fill every vacancy that occurs up until March 4th. There has been much dickering over the situation. Republican senators have hinted that they will resent any filibuster against confirmation of Taft's appointments, and in such an event, they could retaliate and refuse to confirm Wilson's appointments.

All army and navy and all diplomatic appointments will be confirmed. But postmasters, marshals, district attorneys, collectors of internal revenue and collectors of the port, however, are not in this class. Not one appointment to such office, if it is objectionable to the senator of the State affected, will be confirmed.

The White House has received notification that James P. Goodrich, National Republican committeeman for Indiana; Frederick Sims, chairman of the Republican State committee, and Joseph B. Kealing, will shortly join in making recommendation for appointments to fill a large number of postmasterships in the State.

GENERAL DENIAL MADE IN COURT

Alleged Dynamiters Testify In Their Own Behalf.

PERJURY CHARGE IN ONE CASE

W. H. Quigley, Business Agent of the Carpenters' Union at Detroit, is Declared by the District Attorney to Have Sworn Falsely in Answering Questions in Court Regarding Letter He Was Said to Have Written.

Indianapolis, Dec. 12.—When Michael J. Cunnane of Philadelphia, defendant in the dynamiting cases, was on the stand in his own behalf, a letter from McNamara to the witness was shown him. It related to money sent to Philadelphia, in which letter McNamara said:

"It is hereby understood that the above amount is to be used against the American Bridge company and other members of the Erectors' association."

Cunnane said he had understood this to mean that the money was to be paid out in getting the employees of those companies into the union. Witness denied that a visit of Frank C. Webb of New York, then an executive board member, to Philadelphia, had anything to do with dynamiting plans, so far as he knew. He denied all knowledge of the two Philadelphia explosions and denied that he had made threats to contractors before the dynamiting, as had been testified by government witnesses.

On cross-examination witness said he did not hear of any explosions in Philadelphia, though one occurred Jan. 29, 1910, till after the arrest of J. J. McNamara in April, 1911. He solicited Ryan to let him assist in raising the defense fund, and he did so assist, receiving his credentials from Ryan in May. Witness admitted that even after he learned that McNamara was charged with the crimes he voted for his re-election.

Frank Painter, business agent of the Omaha local, a defendant, said that he sent J. J. McNamara a clipping from an Omaha paper giving an account of the explosion at a power house, and when the courthouse was dynamited. The witness said he had read of the Times explosion and of the killing of twenty-one, and that certain men were wanted for the crime, but he sent the clippings regarding the Omaha explosion to McNamara merely as matters of news. The witness made a long report to McNamara to the effect that Caldwell & Drake's work was protected by the police, and in the same letter said he had been doing everything to make the firm come across. Later he reported that police protection had been withdrawn and following that the explosion occurred.

W. H. Quigley, business agent of the carpenters' union at Detroit, who on the stand denied that he had written a letter to Hiram Kline, general organizer of the carpenters' union, and also denied his signature, was arrested for perjury and is being held in $2,000 bond.

The action of Judge Anderson in ordering that Quigley be taken into custody, took place in open court on motion of United States Attorney Miller, who said he could prove by other evidence, and by direct evidence, that Quigley did write the letter he denied in court, and that he could prove where the letter had been during all the time since Quigley wrote it. Judge Anderson commented on Quigley's manner and conduct while in the witness chair.

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN

They Hold Up Victim in Crowd in the Glare of an Electric Light.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 12.—Two unidentified highwaymen, with revolvers, held up Joseph Holderman near crowds of people in the downtown business district of Mishawaka, compelling him to give up $75 and a gold watch. The robbery occurred when the streets were filled with people, and it was committed in the glare of an electric light. Several pedestrians said they saw the highwaymen, but supposed they were only standing in the street talking.

the three men under arrest have been arrested twice on counterfeiting charges. No evidence could be secured against them at the time, but during their talk to secret service agents who were working on the case, they implicated three other men. These three other men were arrested and they are now serving jail sentences for counterfeiting. At the hearing Monday in Newark it is believed that counterfeiting charges will be preferred against the Dunn brothers and Davenport.

TAKING EVIDENCE

British Commission Is Investigating Putumayo Horrors.

London, Dec. 12.—The commission which is investigating the Putumayo outrages heard Sir Roger Casement, the British consul general at Rio Janeiro, whose report on conditions in the Peruvian rubber fields stirred the nation some six months ago, tell of meetings of the directors of the Amazon company, at which J. A. Arana, the moving spirit in the company, promised to dismiss the manager at Iquitos, who was charged with responsibility for most of the outrages.

Sir Roger exhibited photographs of various persons who had been ill-treated, the particulars of which have been printed, and added that the Indians employed in the rubber district did not have human rights, not to speak of civil ones. Sir Roger suggested that all new companies formed in Great Britain for work in the rubber districts should be compelled to file a schedule of the labor conditions at Somerset house.

Making Excellent Progress.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Remarkable progress is being made in the Archbald impeachment trial in the senate. WANTED MONEY OF POLITICIANS

Mr. Wilson Not the Only One Threatened.

A DOZEN OTHERS GOT LETTERS

Revelations Made by Postoffice Inspectors in Connection With the Gang of Mountaineers That "Black-Handed"
Mr. Wilson Disclose the Existence of an Apparently Well Organized Plot to Extract Money From Public Men.

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—President Elect Wilson is only one of a dozen men prominent in political affairs who have received black hand letters during the past two months, each demanding money under threats of death, according to Chief Postal Inspector J. B. Cortelyou, who says that the arrest of Jacob and Peter Dunn and Seely Davenport, the three mountaineers who are charged with threatening to kill Governor Wilson if he did not give them $5,000 in gold, wipes out a bad gang of "bad men" who have been the most greatly feared gang in years.

According to Cortelyou, Governor Wilson received three letters demanding money. Two of these were received two months ago and the last one was received prior to his election to the presidency. In the first two instances the sum of $1,000 was demanded under threats of death if the matter was ignored.

The other men, Chief Cortelyou said, got letters marked Wharton, N. J., and in each instance $500 was demanded under threats of death. Chief Cortelyou refused to divulge the names of these men on the ground that they disliked publicity.

According to the postal inspector.

A Big Difference in Quality No Difference in Price

That's What You Will Say When You See Our Storm Buggies

It does not take an expert to detect the superior quality of our storm buggies. You can see at a glance they are finished much better, and are constructed in a way that leaves no doubt in your mind about the quality. Then the style is different. We do not wait for the other fellow to advance the styles and then follow them. We are continually showing the new styles and you will say when you see our line of storm buggies, that as far as style is concerned, they are certainly in a class by themselves. If you want a buggy that is different, better and at the right price we want to see you and you want too see our buggies.

Seals Commission has issued a statement declaring that there has at no time been any thought of building a monument with Christmas Seals money as a memorial to the late Dr. Henry Moore. The statement says that a tribute will be paid to the memory of Dr. Moore by obtaining the largest possible sale of seals. Dr. Moore was interested in the campaign solely from the standpoint of obtaining as large a fund as possible with which to extend relief to those suffering with tuberculosis and to teach others how to avoid the disease. The Commission says every cent realized from the sale will be used in this way and that by this method an appreciation of Dr. Moore's work will best be shown.

Holiday Shopping Guide.

The high tide of trade for the year is close upon us. Those who buy early get the cream of the traffic. The readers of the Republican will do well to watch the advertising and figure out what they need for holiday goods, and buy as quickly as possible.

The columns of the Republican will constitute the best directory for purchasers. Therein you will find set forth suggestions of gifts for all kinds of people, provisions for the feasts of the season, winter clothing and house furnishings, and all things you need.

There are bargains every day in the year for those who watch out for them. The advertising columns of the Republican direct you to many of them.

A word should be said for the fine group of business men who advertise in these columns. They represent the cream of business ability. They are men who have made good. They have faith in the power of advertising, because they have found that the public has faith in them and their enterprises. In past years they have told their story to the public, the public has believed, it has come in and bought the goods, and the goods have given satisfaction.

Basing his faith and shaping his course on this experience the merchant has faith to come in again with his announcements. The fact that these statements are made under the bond of publicity, is proof that the promises these men have before held out have proven true and that they have given a dollar's worth for a dollar.

When you buy these advertised goods, you buy of men whose business honor, dependability, and good business methods have been tried, tested and proved.

Gov. Wilson has had to pay $6.00 a day extra because people don't know enough to use five cent stamps for Bermuda letters. By the time he has licked 250 stamps, he probably does not feel any more good natured about the offices.

Let not your right hand pocket know what your left hand pocket containeth, says the government to the people who own Union and Southern Pacific.

If Washington expects its advertising as a winter resort to be accepted at face value, it should better stand pat on March 4 for inauguration.

The quickest way to excite Democratic incivility is to mention civil service.

Really, Clarabelle, because Annette Kellermann is a diversess, there is no reason to believe that she and her husband get on swimmingly. No.

If your toes are trodden on by Christmas shoppers, don't neglect to tell the sales girl just what you think of her.

Now the Suffragettes are pouring acid into the letter boxes. It certainly seems strange that a woman intelligent enough to do that should not be permitted to run the government.

Extensive swindling in the rare book trade reported, though wealthy people are usually satisfied with those folding checker boards with "History of America" printed on the back.

The Amateur Playwright.

Verily, the way of the amateur playwright and actor is hard. Roy W. Emig, of Columbus, arranged to put on "Scalplock of Stony Lonesome," by himself and Frank Sohn, a Columbus man. Emig was the hero. The first step was a dismal failure. He planned to hang a toy airship to the court house tower and then advertise that he was practicing for a flight in his play and got caught on the tower. Some one saw the light in the tower when he was putting the toy up and the fire department was called out. The secret got to the public. One man consented to be the "goat." He was to be hazed by a bunch of alleged college students. In the show they made it too realistic—chained him and clipped his hair. The "goat" brought suit against the playwright for $100 for being embarrassed before his friends, and because of a cold he contracted due to his hair being removed. The play was to be repeated this week, but now, cuss it, Emig, the hero, has a bad cold and can't talk above a whisper.

MRS. RUTH SPENCER IS COMPLEMENTED

Former Rushville Girl Sings in Old Time Melodies Concert at Murat Theater.

"THE LAST ROSE OF SUMMER"

Mrs. Arnold Spencer, formerly Miss Ruth Tevis of this city who sang at the Old Time Melodies concert at the Murat theater in Indianapolis last night for the benefit of the Star Santa Claus fund, received the following praise from the pen of Betty Blythe in the Star:

And who was there to notice when Mrs. Arnold Spencer's exquisite singing of "The Last Rose of Summer" brought many a handkerchief to tear-dimmed eyes? Did not every one feel that something beautiful had gone out of life when the lovely singer dropped to the floor the last petals of the single rose she held in her hand, now but a dead and withered thing? Were there not some who felt it a pity that we no longer have a "last rose of summer"? Was not this queen of flowerland more enchanting when we did not have her with us the year round?

Have fashions really progressed so much? Looking on the fair picture presented by this singer in her sweet, old-fashioned pink gown, with its ruffles and its chaste white bertha and the single long curl nestling lovingly beside her cheeks, it was difficult to think so well of clinging draperies and straight lines.

The Root of Evil

By THOMAS DIXON

Copyright, 1911, by Thomas
Dixon

His family doctor bent and said:
"Your heart action is too low just now, Mr. Bivens, you can't stand it."
"Well, I can't stand this! Give it to me, I tell you!"
The doctor took a hypodermic syringe, filled it with water and injected it into his arm.
While Stuart watched the pitiful trick, his eye wandered over the magnificent trappings of the room.
"What irony of fate!" he exclaimed,
under his breath.
The sufferer stared and beckoned to Stuart.
Handing him a key which he drew from beneath his pillow he cried:
"Unlock the right hand top drawer of that safe, Jim—the door is open.
Hand me those bundles of stocks and bonds and call those doctors."
Stuart complied with his request and Bivens spread the brilliantly colored papers on the white covering of his bed, while the doctors drew near.
"Listen now, gentlemen," he began, still gasping with pain. "You're our greatest living doctors, I'm told. Well, I'm not willing to die, I won't die—do you hear? I'm only forty-nine years old. You see here thirty millions in gilt edged stocks and bonds. Well, there are three of you. I'll give you ten millions each to take this stone off of my breast that's smothering me and give me five years more of life."
The three men of science stood with folded, helpless arms and made no effort to keep back the tears. They had seen many men die. It was nothing new—and yet the pity and pathos of this strange appeal found their way to the soul of each. They never envied a millionaire again.
They retired for another consultation. Stuart replaced the papers and gave the key to Bivens.
"Ask Nan to come here a minute,"
he said feebly.
Stuart walked to the door and whispered to a servant. When he returned to the bedside the dying man looked up into his face gratefully.
"You don't know how it helps me to have you near, Jim, old boy. I'm lonesome. Nan I guess is ill and broken down. I've lavished millions on her.
I've given her all I possess in my will,
but somehow we never found hapness. If I could only have been sure of the deep, sweet, unselfish love of one human soul on this earth! If I could only have won a girl's heart when I was poor. But I was rich, and I've always wondered whether she really loved me for my own sake.

At least I've always thanked God for you. You've been a real friend. Our hearts were young together and you stood by me when I was poor."
An hour later when the covering was turned back from the dead body Stuart saw that the smooth little cold hand had gripped the key to his treasures in a last instinctive grasp.
He looked again at the lump of cold clay and wondered what was passing in the soul of the woman who was now the heir of all his millions.
Why had she shown such strange and abject terror over his death—an event she had foreseen and desired?
A horrible suspicion suddenly flashed through his mind. He determined to know at once.
As he had feared, Nan refused point blank to enter the death chamber and asked him to come to her boudoir.
He found her standing by a window, apparently calm. Stuart looked at her a moment with a curious detached interest. Suddenly aware of his presence she turned.
"At last, at last!" she cried in low broken accents. "Oh, dear God, how long I've waited and despaired! At last we may belong to each other forever—body and soul! Nothing else matters now, does it? We shall forget all the blank hideous years; you'll forget it, won't you, dearest? You'll forgive me—now—say that you will?"
"I've long ago forgiven, Nan, but tell me about this sudden attack. You were with him when he was stricken?"
"Yes, I took the nurse's place at midnight; I couldn't sleep."
"How long did you stay with him?"
"Until I called you."
"And you gave him the medicine in the absence of the nurse?"
"Only one," she answered, hesitatingly, "a particular kind the doctor had not prescribed, but which he asked for to relieve his pain."
"He asked you for medicine, Nan?"
he went on remorselessly. "A poisonous powder—and you gave him one?"
"Yes."
"And you're sure you gave him but one?"
"He was begging for two—I might have given them both—it's possible, of course."
He gazed at her with a look of pity.
"I know that you did, Nan, know it as certainly as if I stood by your side and saw you press it to his lips."
"You know, Jim?" she cried feebly, her head drooping low.
"And you feel no remorse?"
"Why should I? His death seemed only a question of days."
"From the bottom of my heart I pity you!" Stuart broke in softly. "The state will never reach your act with the law.
But the big thing is you have no consciousness of guilt and feel no remorse because you have no soul. You have only desires and impulses. That's why you couldn't wait for me to earn my fortune honestly and so betrayed me for gold. I can see it all now. Your beauty has blinded me."
"For God's sake, Jim," she cried fiercely, "don't—don't talk like that! I can't endure it! You don't mean, you can't mean that you are going to turn from me now, just when I've found your love! I did it for you!"
Stuart looked at her through a mist of tears.
"The spell is broken, Nan, dear; our romance is ended. I don't say it in pride or anger; I say it in sorrow—a great deep, plying sorrow that cuts and hurts!"
The woman understood. She had at last passed out of his world. Only the memory of a girl he had once loved and idealized remained, and that memory was now unapproachable. The living woman was no longer the figure in the mental picture. The struggle was over.
He extended his hand, clasped hers, bowed and kissed it, turned and walked quickly toward the door. With a half smothered cry she followed.
"Jim!"
He paused and turned again, facing her with a look of infinite sadness.
"Remember," she said brokenly, "I never expect to see you again—we cannot meet after this. I am looking into your dear face now with the anguish of a broken heart strangling me. You cannot leave me this—we have been too much to each other."

He took her in his arms and held her close.
"Forgive me, dear," he whispered, reverently kissing her as he would have pressed the lips of the dead. "I didn't mean to be cruel—goodbye."
The door of the great house softly closed and he was gone. A few moments later the servants found her limp form lying in a swoon on the floor.
* * * * *
Strangers no longer live in the cottage Stuart built on the hills. A jaunty sailboat nods at the buoy near the water's edge. The drone of bees from the fruit trees in full bloom on the terraces promise a luscious harvest in the summer and fall. The lawn is a wilderness of flowers and shimmering green. The climbing roses on the southeastern side of the house have covered it to the very eaves of the roof. Stuart has just cut them away from Harriet's window because they interfered with her view of the bay and sea and towering hills they love so well. And the crooning of a little mother over a baby's cradle fills the home with music sweeter to its bulder than any note ever heard in grand opera.

THE END.

SAMUEL UNTERMYER

New York Lawyer Who is Probing the Money Trust.

THE RUSSIAN THRONE NOW HAS A NEW HEIR

Czarevitch's Injury Precludes His Succession.

London, Dec. 12.—A story confirming a statement in the Paris Matin in regard to a reason for a change in the arrangement of the succession to the Russian throne, is made a feature today by the Daily Express. The heir designate for the past few days, according to the story, has been generally stated to be the Grand Duke Dmitri, the twenty-one-year-old son of the Grand Duke Paul, who is a cousin of the czar, and is engaged to marry the latter's eldest daughter, the Grand Duchess Olga. Other and nearer successors, including the young man's father, are barred by reason of morganatic marriages.

The reason given for this action, and which is seriously supported by the Express and the Matin, has been mooted before, but has not heretofore been thus stated point blank. It is that the wound received by the czarvitch on board the imperial yacht Standardt some weeks ago, is of such a nature that he will be incapable of continuing the line of succession.

SPARED AGAIN

A Second Respite Has Been Granted Floyd and Claude Allen.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 12.—Floyd Allen, the leader of the Carroll county clansmen, and his son, Claude Swanson Allen, sentenced to electrocution on Friday morning for their participation in the Hillsville courtroom tragedy of March 14 last, have been granted a second respite until Friday, January 17.

The attorneys for the condemned men presented to Governor Mann a lengthy petition setting forth new evidence which it is declared has been discovered and which they say will give a new aspect to the cases of both men.

Sidna Allen, at Wytheville, yesterday afternoon, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter for killing W. M. Foster during the courtroom battle.

Will Make Fifth Trip.

Washington, Dec. 12.—President Taft will leave Washington Dec. 19 for Key West, Fla., whence he will sail for Panama on the battleship Arkansas. This will be Mr. Taft's fifth visit to the Panama canal zone.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The faculty of Dickinson college lay blame for hazing on six sophomores, who have been suspended. The victim's face was marked with acid.

The story that President Taft has been offered the Kent professorship of law at Yale after he retires on March 4 next, has been confirmed at the White House.

A resolution has been presented in congress proposing an amendment to the constitution prohibiting intermarriage between negroes or persons of color, and Caucasians.

As a result of a big baseball deal just concluded, Joe Tinker becomes the manager of the Cincinnati Reds and Frank L. Chance is turned over to the New York Highlanders.

The New York court of appeals has decided that the Royal Arcanum did not act legally in raising its insurance assessment and that the original rate of assessment was to stand.

Professor Morris Loeb, who held the chair of chemistry at New York university when he died on Oct. 8 last, left practically his entire estate of over $1,000,000 to public institutions, half of which goes to Harvard.

Because they disregarded the warning of Superintendent Gibbons and violated naval academy regulations by betting on the army-navy football game at Philadelphia, 400 midshipmen, over half the full number in the academy, will be punished.

EVIDENCE AS TO STOCK JUGGLING

House Committee Getting at the Facts.

TESTIMONY IS ILLUMINATING

Reams of Statistics Introduced Before the Pujo Committee With a View to Showing That Overwhelming Percentage of Business on Stock Exchange in So-Called Active Stocks Represents Speculative Transactions

Washington, Dec. 12.—Many reams of statistics have been introduced in evidence with a view to showing the committee of the house which has begun its investigation of the New York Stock Exchange that an overwhelming percentage of the business on the exchange in the so-called active stocks represents speculative and not investment transactions.

Lawrence W. Scudder, a public accountant in New York city, who prepared tables of all transactions in certain stocks of the New York Stock Exchange at the request of the committee, produced a voluminous series of tables and diagrams which, he said, showed the number of shares of stock listed, the number of shares sold on the Stock Exchange, the high and low prices and the number of shares of stock really transferred on the books of the company for a number of leading concerns. The tables covered the period from 1906 to date. On an average, Mr. Scudder said, the entire capital stock of Reading, for example, was sold 30.9 times a year, and that the brokers' commissions on transactions in Reading over the period amounted to about 7 1/2 per cent of the value of the stock.

The table of the United States Steel corporation showed the capital was sold on an average of 5.1-5 times a year. The transfers for the period were about 25 per cent of the shares sold.

Amalgamated Copper, according to the table, was sold on an average 8.05 times every year from 1900 to date. Union Pacific transfers were 16 per cent of the sales. California Petroleum, with 105,729 shares listed, sold 362,270 shares in one month.

In this connection the committee probed into the well-known operations in Amalgamated Copper stock back in the spring and summer of 1907. Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, charged in effect that a corner in the supply of copper had been effected through the United Metals Selling company, of which the late H. H. Rogers and William Rockefeller were the moving spirits.

Tobias Wolfson, assistant manager of the company, acknowledged on the witness stand that in five months of that year the United Metals Selling company had advanced over $42,000,000 to producers on copper and that during that period something less than 5,000,000 pounds had been marketed by his company, which, Mr. Untermyer contended, controlled the sales of between 60 and 70 per cent of the entire copper production of the country. The normal sales for a five-months' period would, it was estimated, be between 150,000,000 and 200,000,000 pounds. The intimations plainly conveyed by counsel for the investigators was that a high price of copper was maintained through creating an artificial shortage in the market until the insiders of the Amalgamated company had succeeded in unloading a large volume of stock on the public.

Manager Wolfson contended that there had been no artificial manipulation of the copper market and that the United Metals Selling company had not been used to make money in the stock market for insiders.

All day yesterday leading members of the New York Stock Exchange sat in the big caucus room in the house office building, listening to the drumming of Mr. Untermyer's questions, without getting any opportunity to be heard. Several of them protested that their presence in Washington meant a big sacrifice to them at this time and that the conditions of the market were such as to demand their return at once to New York.

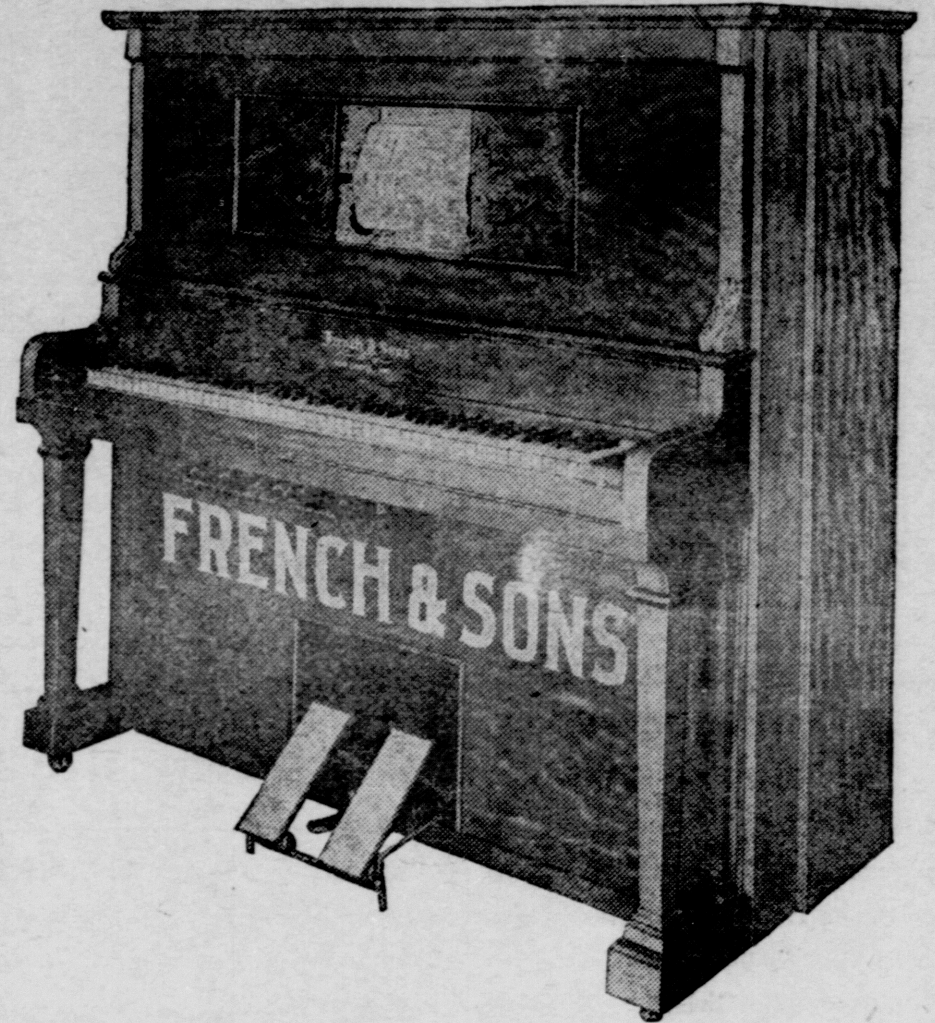

As soon as the hearing adjourned at 4:30 there was a rush by the New York contingent toward Mr. Untermyer. Mr. Untermyer promised to hurry things as much as possible for them today, and after conferring with John G. Milburn, counsel for the stock exchange, he said he hoped to finish with all the stock exchange witnesses now in Washington. As the New York "visitors" filed out of the caucus room most of them were hopping mad.

Peace Not Yet Assured.

London, Dec. 12.—The negotiations for Balkan peace will begin here on Saturday. The views of diplomats of the powers on the situation vary considerably. There is talk in certain quarters which seems to indicate that general European peace is all but assured, but Vienna correspondents still declare that the differences between Austria and Serbia are so great that it is hardly possible for them to be bridged.

Fell From Switch Engine.

Valparaiso, Dec. 12.—Martin Goudy, aged forty, an employe of the Lake Shore railroad for twenty years, fell from the pilot of a switch engine in the yards at Porter and was killed.

SAYS WIFE CAME HERE WITH MEN

Clarence E. Fitch Fails to Substantiate Charges Against Wife in Shelby Superior Court.

NEITHER APPEAR; DISMISSAL

Clarence E. Fitch will have to settle the court costs in the case for divorce from his wife, Flossie B. Fitch, says the Shelbyville Republican. The case was set for hearing Wednesday in the Shelby Superior court, but when the case came up for trial, neither the plaintiff nor the defendant put in their appearance, so the case was dismissed.

The complaint alleged the defendant of being guilty of flirting, that she went to Rushville with men that said plaintiff could not name, that she put crushed glass in the flour from which she made her bread so that he would eat it, that he provided a good home for her, but that she proved to be untrue to him.

They were married January 17, 1906, and separated September 14, 1911.

POLICE STOP BOXING BOUT

Exhibition Called Off by Orders From Mayor Black.

A boxing exhibition was to have been given last night at the Erie theater but the bout was called off when the police, acting under the instructions of Mayor Black, notified the proprietor that the place would be pinched if the fight took place. Mayor Black stated he would permit nothing of this kind in the city as long as he was mayor and the proposed three round affair was taken off the program. The exhibition was advertised before the manager of the theater consulted with Mayor Black or the police.

COMPLAINS ABOUT BEING RELEASED

Jennie McAdams of Shelbyville Says She Was Not Notified by Judge Soon Enough.

TERRY NAMED BY REQUEST

In an authorized statement in the Shelbyville Republican, Miss Jennie McAdams of Shelbyville, official court reporter there for twelve years, complains because she was not notified of her release by Judge Blair until Tuesday night. She says Judge Blair stated the Rushville attorneys had requested the appointment of Sumner Terry of Shelbyville as court reporter here in the absence of Miss Nancy Hogsett, who is spending the winter in Arizona, and that Mr. Terry refused to accept the appointment unless he could also act as court reporter in the Shelby circuit court also. Mr. Terry resigned his position as deputy clerk of the Shelby circuit court in order to accept the position offered by Judge Blair. Mr. Terry is a son of Sheriff Terry of Shelby county, who was appointed to fill the vacancy by the death of the late Sheriff Moore, and who was elected for a term of two years last November.

Miss Maude Hunt is ill with pneumonia at her home in Washington street.

Almira Shreeve has filed an account suit against John Toms, administrator of the estate of Milton White, deceased, demanding $2000.

Lewis Cline, rural carrier, was operated on for hernia at Sexton's sanitarium yesterday. It was reported today that he was getting along nicely.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Matthews, aged 69, who died at the home of her son, Frank Matthews, in Indianapolis, Monday, was held at the M. E. church in Spiceland yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. Phillips in charge. Interment took place in the Spiceland cemetery.

MAY END TOMORROW.

The case of Gleeley and others against Hooten and others is still taking up the time in the circuit court. Late this afternoon the plaintiffs were still introducing rebuttal evidence. There is no assurance as to just when the case will be argued and when it will be presented to the jury. The end may come tomorrow. $1,800 is demanded on a contract.

DEATH OF THOMAS HINTS AT MYSTERY

Reported Now That Former Rush County Farmer Died in Chicago Hospital.

BODY ARRIVES IN ANDERSON

The body of William Thomas, former Madison county farmer who was killed in a railroad accident near Chicago was to arrive in Anderson Wednesday afternoon at 2:32 o'clock over the Pennsylvania, says the Anderson Herald. A relative of the deceased went to Chicago to meet Mrs. Thomas, the widow, and bring the remains of the deceased to Anderson. It was reported yesterday that Layton and Walter Thomas, sons of the deceased who were with him at the time of the accident had also been killed. No details of the accident which resulted in the death of Mr. Thomas had been received late last night.

There appears to be some mystery about his death or information concerning details are different to get hold of. It is reported that he died in a Chicago hospital. The time for the funeral of Mr. Thomas has not been arranged.

XMAS MAIL MOVES EARLY

Postoffice Officials Believe People Profit by Past Experience.

Probably learning from past experience that when one waits until the mails are overloaded, near Christmas, many packages fail to reach their destination on time, the people this year are sending out Christmas mail earlier than ever before. Postoffice officials say that a large part of the mail sent out and some that has been received consisted of Christmas packages. This is pleasing to the mail men for there is hope in it that the usual heart-breaking and back-breaking congestion of Christmas mail matter that has made their Christmas a nightmare in recent years will be in part avoided.

GENERAL DENIAL MADE IN COURT

Alleged Dynamiters Testify In Their Own Behalf.

PERJURY CHARGE IN ONE CASE

W. H. Quigley, Business Agent of the Carpenters' Union at Detroit, is Declared by the District Attorney to Have Sworn Falsely in Answering Questions in Court Regarding Letter He Was Said to Have Written.

Indianapolis, Dec. 12.—When Michael J. Cunnane of Philadelphia, defendant in the dynamiting cases, was on the stand in his own behalf, a letter from McNamara to the witness was shown him. It related to money sent to Philadelphia, in which letter McNamara said:

"It is hereby understood that the above amount is to be used against the American Bridge company and other members of the Erectors' association."

Cunnane said he had understood this to mean that the money was to be paid out in getting the employees of those companies into the union. Witness denied that a visit of Frank C. Webb of New York, then an executive board member, to Philadelphia, had anything to do with dynamiting plans, so far as he knew. He denied all knowledge of the two Philadelphia explosions and denied that he had made threats to contractors before the dynamiting, as had been testified by government witnesses.

On cross-examination witness said he did not hear of any explosions in Philadelphia, though one occurred Jan. 29, 1910, till after the arrest of J. J. McNamara in April, 1911. He solicited Ryan to let him assist in raising the defense fund, and he did so assist, receiving his credentials from Ryan in May. Witness admitted that even after he learned that McNamara was charged with the crimes he voted for his re-election.

Frank Painter, business agent of the Omaha local, a defendant, said that he sent J. J. McNamara a clipping from an Omaha paper giving an account of the explosion at a power house, and when the courthouse was dynamited. The witness said he had read of the Times explosion and of the killing of twenty-one, and that certain men were wanted for the crime, but he sent the clippings regarding the Omaha explosion to McNamara merely as matters of news. The witness made a long report to McNamara to the effect that Caldwell & Drake's work was protected by the police, and in the same letter said he had been doing everything to make the firm come across. Later he reported that police protection had been withdrawn and following that the explosion occurred.

W. H. Quigley, business agent of the carpenters' union at Detroit, who on the stand denied that he had written a letter to Hiram Kline, general organizer of the carpenters' union, and also denied his signature, was arrested for perjury and is being held in $2,000 bond.

The action of Judge Anderson in ordering that Quigley be taken into custody, took place in open court on motion of United States Attorney Miller, who said he could prove by other evidence, and by direct evidence, that Quigley did write the letter he denied in court, and that he could prove where the letter had been during all the time since Quigley wrote it. Judge Anderson commented on Quigley's manner and conduct while in the witness chair.

BOLD HIGHWAYMEN

They Hold Up Victim in Crowd in the Glare of an Electric Light.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 12.—Two unidentified highwaymen, with revolvers, held up Joseph Holderman near crowds of people in the downtown business district of Mishawaka, compelling him to give up $75 and a gold watch. The robbery occurred when the streets were filled with people, and it was committed in the glare of an electric light. Several pedestrians said they saw the highwaymen, but supposed they were only standing in the street talking.

Parole Petition Honored.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Dec. 12.—After a day spent in examining applicants for parole, who numbered at the present eighty-nine, or approximately one in every twelve of the inmates of the institution, the board of trustees of the Indiana reformatory announced that fifty-nine had been approved as worthy of release on parole.

John McEwen on Trial.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 12.—The trial of John McEwen, charged with first degree murder, has begun before a jury in the Vanderburg county circuit court. McEwen is charged with killing Cleveland Dennison in this city last August.

Druggists Under Suspicion.

South Bend, Ind., Dec. 12.—Warrants for the arrest of at least three South Bend druggists on charges of selling morphine and cocaine to young boys are expected to be issued here as a result of an investigation made by the police.

WANTED MONEY OF POLITICIANS

Mr. Wilson Not the Only One Threatened.

A DOZEN OTHERS GOT LETTERS

Revelations Made by Postoffice Inspectors in Connection With the Gang of Mountaineers That "Black-Handed" Mr. Wilson Disclose the Existence of an Apparently Well Organized Plot to Extract Money From Public Men.

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—President Elect Wilson is only one of a dozen men prominent in political affairs who have received black hand letters during the past two months, each demanding money under threats of death, according to Chief Postal Inspector J. B. Cortelyou, who says that the arrest of Jacob and Peter Dunn and Seely Davenport, the three mountaineers who are charged with threatening to kill Governor Wilson if he did not give them $5,000 in gold, wipes out a bad gang of "bad men" who have been the most greatly feared gang in years.

According to Cortelyou, Governor Wilson received three letters demanding money. Two of these were received two months ago and the last one was received prior to his election to the presidency. In the first two instances the sum of $1,000 was demanded under threats of death if the matter was ignored.

The other men, Chief Cortelyou said, got letters marked Wharton, N. J., and in each instance $500 was demanded under threats of death. Chief Cortelyou refused to divulge the names of these men on the ground that they disliked publicity.

According to the postal inspector.

The three men were arrested when arrested twice on counterfeiting charges. No evidence could be secured against them at the time, but during their talk to secret service agents who were working on the case, they implicated three other men. These three other men were arrested and they are now serving jail sentences for counterfeiting. At the hearing Monday in Newark it is believed that counterfeiting charges will be preferred against the Dunn brothers and Davenport.

TAKING EVIDENCE

British Commission Is Investigating Putumayo Horrors.

London, Dec. 12.—The commission which is investigating the Putumayo outrages heard Sir Roger Casement, the British consul general at Rio Janeiro, whose report on conditions in the Peruvian rubber fields stirred the nation some six months ago, tell of meetings of the directors of the Amazon company, at which J. A. Arana, the moving spirit in the company, promised to dismiss the manager at Iquitos, who was charged with responsibility for most of the outrages.

Sir Roger exhibited photographs of various persons who had been ill-treated, the particulars of which have been printed, and added that the Indians employed in the rubber district did not have human rights, not to speak of civil ones. Sir Roger suggested that all new companies formed in Great Britain for work in the rubber districts should be compelled to file a schedule of the labor conditions at Somerset house.

Accused of Embezzling Lodge Funds.

Sullivan, Ind., Dec. 12.—Samuel W. Woodsmall, member of the Sullivan county bar, and candidate for prosecuting attorney on the Progressive ticket at the recent election, was arrested on a charge of embezzlement. He is in the county jail in default of bond. The affidavit charges him with embezzling $39.75 from the Royal Order of Lions of Shelburne, of which lodge he was secretary.

Trustees Elect Officers.

Indianapolis, Dec. 12.—At the close of the twenty-second annual meeting of the Indiana State Trustees' association the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Bruce Moore, Frankfort; vice president, W. P. Noffsinger, Union City; secretary, U. S. Gard, Clay City; treasurer, Charles H. Orner, Columbia City.

Passengers Badly Shaken Up.

Terre Haute, Ind., Dec. 12.—Train No. 16 on the Big Four ran into an open switch one-half mile west of Sanford, and the engine and three coaches left the track and turned over. J. H. Kessler, engineer, of Indianapolis, was the only one injured, and he is only slightly hurt. The passengers were badly shaken up, but all escaped injury.

Making Excellent Progress.

Washington, Dec. 12.—Remarkable progress is being made in the Archibald impeachment trial in the senate. The managers for the house believe they will be able to conclude their testimony this week, and the other side will probably get through in time next week to permit an early adjournment for the holidays.

Tetanus Follows Hunting Accident.

Union City, Ind., Dec. 12.—Emanuel Baker, wounded by a shotgun when hunting rabbits, is dead of tetanus.

Dear Santa:

I am a big girl four years old. Don't forget to bring my Nellie back. You know you took her away when I went to Sunday school. Put Dorothy's eyes back in. I would like a little trunk for Nellie's clothes, a drum, a stove and a horn. Fill both my stockings. Don't forget Cy Yocum. He is gone now but will be home for Xmas. I have just gotten over the whooping cough.

P. S.—Here is 50c for the Santa Claus fund.

A Big Difference in Quality No Difference in Price

That's What You Will Say When You See Our Storm Buggies

It does not take an expert to detect the superior quality of our storm buggies. You can see at a glance they are finished much better, and are constructed in a way that leaves no doubt in your mind about the quality. Then the style is different. We do not wait for the other fellow to advance the styles and then follow them. We are continually showing the new styles and you will say when you see our line of storm buggies, that as far as style is concerned, they are certainly in a class by themselves. If you want a buggy that is different, better and at the right price we want to see you and you want too see our buggies.

Holiday Shopping Guide.

The high tide of trade for the year is close upon us. Those who buy early get the cream of the traffic. The readers of the Republican will do well to watch the advertising and figure out what they need for holiday goods, and buy as quickly as possible.

The columns of the Republican will constitute the best directory for purchasers. Therein you will find set forth suggestions of gifts for all kinds of people, provisions for the feasts of the season, winter clothing and house furnishings, and all things you need.

There are bargains every day in the year for those who watch out for them. The advertising columns of the Republican direct you to many of them.

A word should be said for the fine group of business men who advertise in these columns. They represent the cream of business ability. They are men who have made good. They have faith in the power of advertising, because they have found that the public has faith in them and their enterprises. In past years they have told their story to the public, the public has believed, it has come in and bought the goods, and the goods have given satisfaction.

Basing his faith and shaping his course on this experience the merchant has faith to come in again with his announcements. The fact that these statements are made under the bond of publicity, is proof that the promises these men have before held out have proven true and that they have given a dollar's worth for a dollar.

When you buy these advertised goods, you buy of men whose business honor, dependability, and good business methods have been tried, tested and proved.

Gov. Wilson has had to pay $6.00 a day extra because people don't know enough to use five cent stamps for Bermuda letters. By the time he has licked 250 stamps, he probably does not feel any more good natured about the offices.

Let not your right hand pocket know what your left hand pocket containeth, says the government to the people who own Union and Southern Pacific.

If Washington expects its advertising as a winter resort to be accepted at face value, it should better stand pat on March 4 for inauguration.

The quickest way to excite Democratic inactivity is to mention civil service.

Really, Clarabelle, because Annette Kellermann is a diveress, there is no reason to believe that she and her husband get on swimmingly. No.

If your toes are trodden on by Christmas shoppers, don't neglect to tell the sales girl just what you think of her.

Now the Suffragettes are pouring acid into the letter boxes. It certainly seems strange that a woman intelligent enough to do that should not be permitted to run the government.

Extensive swindling in the rare book trade reported, though wealthy people are usually satisfied with those folding checker boards with "History of America" printed on the back.

The Amateur Playwright.

Verily, the way of the amateur playwright and actor is hard. Roy W. Emig, of Columbus, arranged to put on "Saul of Tarsus" by himself and Frank Sohn, a Columbus man. Emig was the hero. The first step was a dismal failure. He planned to hang a toy airship to the court house tower and then advertise that he was practicing for a flight in his play and got caught on the tower. Some one saw the light in the tower when he was putting the toy up and the fire department was called out. The secret got to the public. One man consented to be the "goat." He was to be hazed by a bunch of alleged college students. In the show they made it too realistic—chained him and clipped his hair. The "goat" brought suit against the playwright for $100 for being embarrassed before his friends, and because of a cold he contracted due to his hair being removed. The play was to be repeated this week, but now, cuss it, Emig, the hero, has a bad cold and can't talk above a whisper.

AS APPRECIATION OF
DR. MOORE'S WORK

Indiana Christmas Seals Commission

Has no Thought of Erecting Monument to Him.

WANTS LARGEST SALE YET

In order that there may be no misunderstanding, the Indiana Christmas

Seals Commission has issued a statement declaring that there has at no time been any thought of building a monument with Christmas Seals money as a memorial to the late Dr. Henry Moore. The statement says that a tribute will be paid to the memory of Dr. Moore by obtaining the largest possible sale of seals. Dr. Moore was interested in the campaign solely from the standpoint of obtaining as large a fund as possible with which to extend relief to those suffering with tuberculosis and to teach others how to avoid the disease. The Commission says every cent realized from the sale will be used in this way and that by this method an appreciation of Dr. Moore's work will best be shown.

MRS. RUTH SPENCER IS COMPLEMENTED

Former Rushville Girl Sings in Old Time Melodies Concert at Murat Theater.

"THE LAST ROSE OF SUMMER"

Mrs. Arnold Spencer, formerly Miss Ruth Tevis of this city who sang at the Old Time Melodies concert at the Murat theater in Indianapolis last night for the benefit of the Star Santa Claus fund, received the following praise from the pen of Betty Blythe in the Star:

And who was there to notice when Mrs. Arnold Spencer's exquisite singing of "The Last Rose of Summer" brought many a handkerchief to tear-dimmed eyes? Did not every one feel that something beautiful had gone out of life when the lovely singer dropped to the floor the last petals of the single rose she held in her hand, now but a dead and withered thing? Were there not some who felt it a pity that we no longer have a "last rose of summer?" Was not this queen of flowerland more enchanting when we did not have her with us the year round?

Have fashions really progressed so much? Looking on the fair picture presented by this singer in her sweet, old-fashioned pink gown, with its ruffles and its chaste white bertha and the single long curl nestling lovingly beside her cheeks, it was difficult to think so well of clinging draperies and straight lines.

THE RUSSIAN THRONE NOW HAS A NEW HEIR

Czarevitch's Injury Precludes His Succession.

London, Dec. 12.—A story confirming a statement in the Paris Matin in regard to a reason for a change in the arrangement of the succession to the Russian throne, is made a feature today by the Daily Express. The heir designate for the past few days, according to the story, has been generally stated to be the Grand Duke Dmitri, the twenty-one-year-old son of the Grand Duke Paul, who is a cousin of the czar, and is engaged to marry the latter's eldest daughter, the Grand Duchess Olga. Other and nearer successors, including the young man's father, are barred by reason of morganatic marriages.

The reason given for this action, and which is seriously supported by the Express and the Matin, has been mooted before, but has not heretofore been thus stated point blank. It is that the wound received by the czarvitch on board the imperial yacht Standard some weeks ago, is of such a nature that he will be incapable of continuing the line of succession.

SPARED AGAIN

A Second Respite Has Been Granted Floyd and Claude Allen.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 12.—Floyd Allen, the leader of the Carroll county clansmen, and his son, Claude Swanson Allen, sentenced to electrocution on Friday morning for their participation in the Hillsville courtroom tragedy of March 14 last, have been granted a second respite until Friday, January 17.

The attorneys for the condemned men presented to Governor Mann a lengthy petition setting forth new evidence which it is declared has been discovered and which they say will give a new aspect to the cases of both men.

Sidna Allen, at Wytheville, yesterday afternoon, was found guilty of involuntary manslaughter for killing W. M. Foster during the courtroom battle.

Will Make Fifth Trip.

Washington, Dec. 12.—President Taft will leave Washington Dec. 19 for Key West, Fla., whence he will sail for Panama on the battleship Arkansas. This will be Mr. Taft's fifth visit to the Panama canal zone.

TERSE TELEGRAMS

The faculty of Dickinson college lay blame for hazing on six sophomores, who have been suspended. The victim's face was marked with acid.

The story that President Taft has been offered the Kent professorship of law at Yale after he retires on March 4 next, has been confirmed at the White House.

A resolution has been presented in congress proposing an amendment to the constitution prohibiting intermarriage between negroes or persons of color, and Caucasians.

As a result of a big baseball deal just concluded, Joe Tinker becomes the manager of the Cincinnati Reds and Frank L. Chance is turned over to the New York Highlanders.

The New York court of appeals has decided that the Royal Arcanum did not act legally in raising its insurance assessment and that the original rate of assessment will have to stand.

Professor Morris Loeb, who held the chair of chemistry at New York university when he died on Oct. 8 last, left practically his entire estate of over $1,000,000 to public institutions, half of which goes to Harvard.

Because they disregarded the warning of Superintendent Gibbons and violated naval academy regulations by betting on the army-navy football game at Philadelphia, 400 midshipmen, over half the full number in the academy, will be punished.

EVIDENCE AS TO STOCK JUGGLING

House Committee Getting at the Facts.

TESTIMONY IS ILLUMINATING

Reams of Statistics Introduced Before the Pujo Committee With a View to Showing That Overwhelming Percentage of Business on Stock Exchange in So-Called Active Stocks Represents Speculative Transactions

Washington, Dec. 12.—Many reams of statistics have been introduced in evidence with a view to showing the committee of the house which has begun its investigation of the New York Stock Exchange that an overwhelming percentage of the business on the exchange in the so-called active stocks represents speculative and not investment transactions.

Lawrence W. Scudder, a public accountant in New York city, who prepared tables of all transactions in certain stocks of the New York Stock Exchange at the request of the committee, produced a voluminous series of tables and diagrams which, he said, showed the number of shares of stock listed, the number of shares sold on the Stock Exchange, the high and low prices and the number of shares of stock really transferred on the books of the company for a number of leading concerns. The tables covered the period from 1906 to date. On an average, Mr. Scudder said, the entire capital stock of Reading, for example, was sold 30.9 times a year, and that the brokers' commissions on transactions in Reading over the period amounted to about 7 1/2 per cent of the value of the stock.

The table of the United States Steel corporation showed the capital was sold on an average of 51.5 times a year. The transfers for the period were about 25 per cent of the shares sold.

Amalgamated Copper, according to the table, was sold on an average 8.05 times every year from 1900 to date. Union Pacific transfers were 16 per cent of the sales. California Petroleum, with 105,729 shares listed, sold 362,270 shares in one month.

In this connection the committee probed into the well-known operations in Amalgamated Copper stock back in the spring and summer of 1907. Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, charged in effect that a corner in the supply of copper had been effected through the United Metals Selling company, of which the late H. H. Rogers and William Rockefeller were the moving spirits.

Tobias Wolfson, assistant manager of the company, acknowledged on the witness stand that in five months of that year the United Metals Selling company had advanced over $42,000,000 to producers on copper and that during that period something less than 5,000,000 pounds had been marketed by his company, which, Mr. Untermyer contended, controlled the sales of between 60 and 70 per cent of the entire copper production of the country. The normal sales for a five-months' period would, it was estimated, be between 150,000,000 and 200,000,000 pounds. The intimations plainly conveyed by counsel for the investigators was that a high price of copper was maintained through creating an artificial shortage in the market until the insiders of the Amalgamated company had succeeded in unloading a large volume of stock on the public.

Manager Wolfson contended that there had been no artificial manipulation of the copper market and that the United Metals Selling company had not been used to make money in the stock market for insiders.

All day yesterday leading members of the New York Stock Exchange sat in the big caucus room in the house office building, listening to the drumming of Mr. Untermyer's questions, without getting any opportunity to be heard. Several of them protested that their presence in Washington meant a big sacrifice to them at this time and that the conditions of the market were such as to demand their return at once to New York.

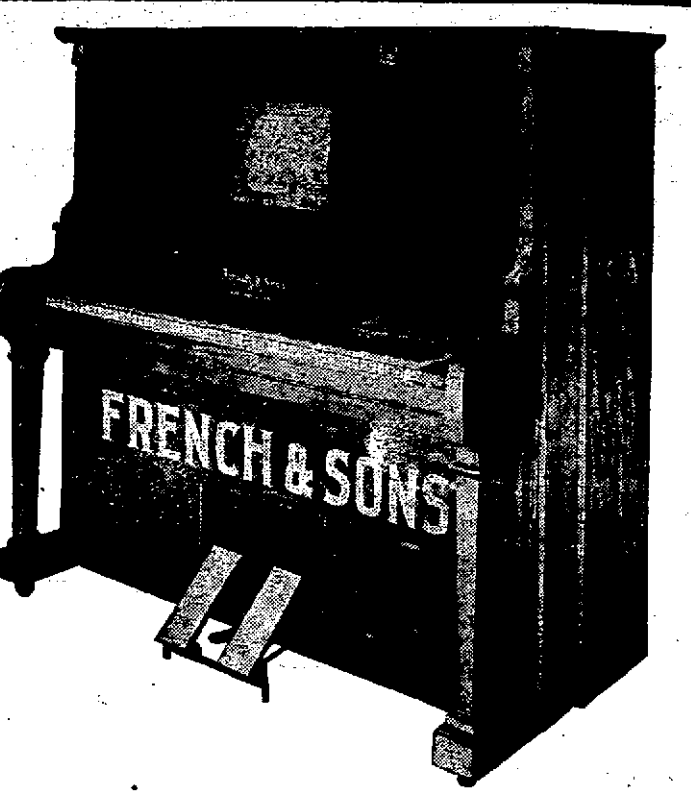

As soon as the hearing adjourned at 4:30 there was a rush by the New York contingent toward Mr. Untermyer. Mr. Untermyer promised to hurry things as much as possible for them today, and after conferring with John G. Milburn, counsel for the stock exchange, he said he hoped to finish with all the stock exchange witnesses now in Washington. As the New York "visitors" fled out of the caucus room most of them were hopping mad.

Peace Not Yet Assured.

London, Dec. 12.—The negotiations for Balkan peace will begin here on Saturday. The views of diplomats of the powers on the situation vary considerably. There is talk in certain quarters which seems to indicate that general European peace is all but assured, but Vienna correspondents still declare that the differences between Austria and Serbia are so great that it is hardly possible for them to be bridged.

Fell From Switch Engine.

Valparaiso, Dec. 12.—Martin Goady, aged forty, an employee of the Lake Shore railroad for twenty years, fell from the pilot of a switch engine in the yards at Foster and was killed.

SAYS WIFE CAME HERE WITH MEN

Clarence E. Fitch Fails to Substantiate Charges Against Wife in Shelby Superior Court.

NEITHER APPEAR: DISMISSAL

Clarence E. Fitch will have to settle the court costs in the case for divorce from his wife, Flossie B.
Fitch, says the Shelbyville Republican. The case was set for hearing Wednesday in the Shelby Superior court, but when the case came up for trial, neither the plaintiff nor the defendant put in their appearance, so the case was dismissed.

The complaint alleged the defendant of being guilty of flirting, that she went to Nashville with men that said plaintiff could not name, that she put crushed glass in the flour from which she made her bread so that he would eat it, that he provided a good home for her, but that she proved to be untrue to him.

They were married January 17,
1906, and separated September 14, 1911.

POLICE STOP BOXING BOUT

Exhibition Called Off by Orders From Mayor Black.

A boxing exhibition was to have been given last night at the Erie theater but the bout was called off when the police, acting under the instructions of Mayor Black, notified the proprietor that the place would be pinched if the fight took place.
Mayor Black stated he would permit nothing of this kind in the city as long as he was mayor and the proposed three round affair was taken off the program. The exhibition was advertised before the manager of the theater consulted with Mayor
Black or the police.

COMPLAINS ABOUT BEING RELEASED

Jennie McAdams of Shelbyville Says
She Was Not Notified by Judge
Soon Enough.

TERRY NAMED BY REQUEST

In an authorized statement in the Shelbyville Republican, Miss Jennie McAdams of Shelbyville, official court reporter there for twelve years, complains because she was not notified of her release by Judge Blair until Tuesday night. She says Judge Blair stated the Nashville attorneys had requested the appointment of Summer Terry of Shelbyville as court reporter here in the absence of Miss Nancy Hogsett, who is spending the winter in Arizona, and that Mr. Terry refused to accept the appointment unless he could also act as court reporter in the Shelby circuit court also. Mr. Terry resigned his position as deputy clerk of the Shelby circuit court in order to accept the position offered by Judge Blair. Mr. Terry is a son of Sheriff Terry of Shelby county, who was appointed to fill the vacancy by the death of the late Sheriff Moore, and who was elected for a term of two years last November.

Miss Maude Hunt is ill with pneumonia at her home in Washington street.

Almira Shreeve has filed an account suit against John Toms, administrator of the estate of Milton White, deceased, demanding $2000.

Lewis Cline, rural carrier, was operated on for hernia at Sexton's sanitorium yesterday. It was reported today that he was getting along nicely.

The funeral of Mrs. Sarah Matthews, aged 69, who died at the home of her son, Frank Matthews, in Indianapolis, Monday, was held at the M. E. church in Spiceland yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev.
Phillips in charge. Interment took place in the Spiceland cemetery.

MAY END TOMORROW.

The case of Gleeley and others against Hooten and others is still taking up the time in the circuit court. Late this afternoon the plaintiffs were still introducing rebuttal evidence. There is no assurance as to just when the case will be argued and when it will be presented to the jury. The end may come tomorrow. $1,800 is demanded on a contract.

DEATH OF THOMAS HINTS AT MYSTERY

Reported Now That Former Rush
County Farmer Died in Chicago Hospital.

BODY ARRIVES IN ANDERSON

The body of William Thomas, former Madison county farmer who was killed in a railroad accident near Chicago was to arrive in Anderson
Wednesday afternoon at 2:32 o'clock over the Pennsylvania, says the Anderson Herald. A relative of the deceased went to Chicago to meet Mrs.
Thomas, the widow, and bring the remains of the deceased to Anderson.
It was reported yesterday that Layton and Walter Thomas, sons of the deceased who were with him at the time of the accident had also been killed. No details of the accident which resulted in the death of Mr.
Thomas had been received late last night.

There appears to be some mystery about his death or information concerning details are different to get hold of. It is reported that he died in a Chicago hospital. The time for the funeral of Mr. Thomas has not been arranged.

XMAS MAIL MOVES EARLY

Postoffice Officials Believe People Profit by Past Experience.

Probably learning from past experience that when one waits until the mails are overloaded, near Christmas, many packages fail to reach their destination on time, the people this year are sending out Christmas mail earlier than ever before. Postoffice officials say that a large part of the mail sent out and some that has been received consisted of Christmas packages. This is pleasing to the mail men for there is hope in it that the usual heart-breaking and back-breaking congestion of Christmas mail matter that has made their Christmas a nightmare in recent years will be in part avoided.
